Embury, Book Keeper, adding W. I. Williams to their list of Directors, which is as follows: A. R. Denny, A. C. Robinson, Jno. E. Stormes, S. C. Denny, J. L. Gill and W. I. Williams.

A Curiosity.
John Anderson, a salesman in J. R. Mount's store, found a bill of sale of a negro boy. Many of the present generation, never heard of a paper that sold human flesh, like a horse or an acre of ground. We, therefore, reproduce it: "I have this day sold to William Simpson, Stephen a boy of color about 7 years old, for the sum of $400. The boy I warrant sound, sensible, a slave for life. April 4, 1848. Jones L. Adams."

Condition of City.
By reading the report of the condition of the City in this issue, it will be seen that we are in a healthy condition, and that the Board of Council deserves much credit for the able and efficient manner in which they have handled the affairs of the City, all circumstances considered. The affairs have been economically administered. Much of these good results is due to the advice and counsel of City Attorney, L. L. Walker; and Clerk Mason, Judge Harris and Marshal Herron have done their duty faithfully.

Broughton—Major Trial.
The examining trial of the above parties named, for the mysterious killing of Mrs. Major, near Buena Vista, was called before Judge Ford, Saturday, J. E. Robinson representing the Commonwealth and Hon. R. H. Tomlinson and J. I. Hamilton the defense. The case was passed until Thursday, by the Commonwealth on account of the absence of an important witness. Much interest is manifested in the case, and we regret we will be unable to note result until next issue.

Duty.
Died, at her home near Manse, Mrs. Margaret Royston Doty, aged 70 years. Her death was due to a complication of diseases. A husband, Capt. John Doty, one daughter Mrs. Jacob White, of Lincoln and two sons, Will G. Doty, of Ohio, and John Doty of Point Leavell, mourn their irreparable loss. One daughter, Mrs. Frank Doty Hardin died two years ago. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. D. E. Frierson, and the remains were buried in Lancaster cemetery.

Crane—Fayne.
In Lexington, Thursday afternoon, January 7th, at the home of the brides parents, Miss Carrie S. Crane and Mr. Jno. B. Fayne were united in marriage. The bride is a charming young lady with thorough musical education. Mr. Fayne is a man of splendid business ability, now being with the Leader, in Lexington.
After an extensive trip East they returned to the home of the groom's parents, Mr and Mrs W H Fayne, at Stone.
The Record extends best of wishes for John and his bride.

Goode.
Ralph May, the youngest child of Mrs. Allen Goode died in the home of Marion Johnson December 6th 1908, after short illness. He was about two years and ten months old at the time of his taking leave for the presence of the Heavenly Father. This was a boy of unusual promises, being bright, happy and full of life and health. It is a great sorrow to his lonely mother as she passes through the solitary days of widowhood. But she has the comforting promises of the Father of all mercies and the sympathy of all the Christian people of the community. It is just another instance of a little soul being transplanted into the garden of God's presence. Three little ones that go before only beckon us on to that blessed home where trouble or tears can never come. May the precious promises of God be sufficient to keep us all in perfect faith, until we meet again.

Jones—Brown

On Wednesday evening, at the residence of the bride's father, R. S. Brown, Richmond Street, Mr. David Jones was married to Miss Bertha Brown, Eld. F. M. Tindler officiating. It was a quiet wedding attended only by relatives and friends. The parties are well connected, favorably known, and congratulations are in order.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to express, through the Record, our heartfelt appreciation of the many kindnesses extended by our friends and neighbors during our recent great trouble. Helping hands and words of sympathy coming at such a time will never be forgotten, and we pray God's richest blessings upon those who came to us with them.
John G. Doty, Sr., and family.

Bank Election.

On Tuesday the Citizens National Bank elected the following officers: J. J. Walker, President; J. S. Johnson, Vice President; B. F. Hudson, Cashier; W. O. Rigney, Assistant Cashier; C. D. Walker, book keeper, Directors, J. J. Walker, J. S. Johnson, T. M. Arnold, B. F. Hudson, Alex Gibbs, L. L. Walker and C. A. Arnold, the last two being new directors.

Commercial Club

A meeting will be held Tuesday, January 19th at 2 p. m., at the Garrard Bank and Trust Company for the purpose of organizing a Commercial Club. All prosperous towns and cities are represented by a Commercial Club, and as such an organization would help build our town, we want a full meeting of all business men. It is hoped that the farmers will also respond to this call as the welfare of the city is theirs too.

M. P. A.

Neighbors have notified the Men's Protective Association that J. W. Sweeney swept the pavement, on Sunday, and reports say that Rev. C. C. Brown is not altogether clear of the charge of doing household work. Now if these parties will join the order, promise to abandon such work, and pay 25 cents dues, as Dr. Burnett has done, no further punishment will be inflicted. The order is growing, and a strict observance of its rules will guarantee liberty to us and our children.

Woods, W. G. Gooch, J. C. Hemphill, H. V. Bastin, T. C. Ratkin, Thos. Owens, A. B. Brown, Jr., J. W. Hill, J. H. Dalton, M. D. Shearer.

At the same meeting the directors declared a semi annual dividend of 2 per cent. This institution added the Trust feature which has so long been in demand and is so universally needed by every community, in handling estates, as administrator, executor or trustee. The security of the institution, the competency of the officers and the convenience in transacting such business will appeal to the business public.

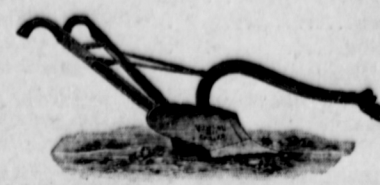

High Award To The Country Press.

The country press of the United States, probably never received more distinctive award to its moral worth, than in the action of the great National Council of the churches of America, recently held in Philadelphia and as reported in the Philadelphia dailies. The following resolution recognizing the moral value of the country press was offered before the body by Dr. Pierce, of Kentucky and favorably reported by the business committee of fifty. It was unanimously adopted later in full session of the Council with marked applause; the resolution being as follows:

"The Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, recognizes the great value of the city and country press, the last as well as the first reaching and serving vast religious as well as civic fields, and cordially invites all the brotherhood of the press, both secular and religious, to co-operate with the Federal Council, as allies in the warfare against civic corruption, commercial dishonesty, unworthy, vice and crime."

We appreciate the complimentary mention made by Dr. E. H. Pearce, of our city, in referring to the country press in the above resolution.

General News.

Beach Hargis was released from jail at Jackson. His mother paid his fine under the promise that he would behave himself. Young Hargis will leave for Hot Springs, Ark., in a few days to be treated for rheumatism.

After the holiday lull, the Government's light looking to the dissolution of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey was resumed in New York before Special Examiner Frank B. Ferris.

Senator Tillman was shadowed by secret service officers by direction of the President in connection with the alleged Oregon "land grab bill." The Senator promises to make things warm in his reply.

A bill was reported to the Senate from the Committee on Finance increasing the salary of the President of the United States from $50,000 to $100,000 a year and the salaries of the Vice President and the Speaker from $12,000 to $20,000 a year each.

The leaders of the Burley Tobacco Society voted themselves nice salaries at their meeting at Winchester. The president is to get $5,000 per year and expenses; seven executive committeemen, $2,000 each and expenses, and forty-three district chairmen $500 a year each.

Considering the good the Society has done, the salaries are not excessive.

It is persistently rumored that the Louisville and Nashville will seek to acquire the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad property when it is put up for sale, as it will be in the near future. The property at present is in the hands of a receiver and has been ordered sold. The line would be a valuable connection to the L. and N. system.

The Rev. John H. Carmichael, who confessed to the murder of Gideon Browning at the Rattle Run Methodist church, in Michigan, and who cut his throat in a boarding-house at Carthage, Ill., Sunday night, died at noon Monday. Carmichael was found in the toilet room of Mirandi Hughes' boarding-house after he had attempted to end his life. He left a letter in which he confessed that he was the man who killed Browning.

Everybody should attend the Indian show at Court House January 27th.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

To the Democratic party of the 13th Judicial District: I am a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Circuit Judge of this district. I prefer a primary election.
M. C. SAUFLEY.

We are authorized to announce Hon. Chas. A. Hardin, of Harrodsburg, as a candidate for re-nomination for the office of Commonwealth Attorney for the 13th Judicial District, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Robert Thornbury, of Campbellsville, was elected messenger to carry Kentucky's electoral vote to Washington.

A Pittsburg man offers to sell himself for $1,000. He will never be able to attract a woman until he gets on the bargain counter at $900.05.—Richmond Climax.

The noose will end the career of six night riders, at Union City, Tennessee, on February 19, that number being sentenced for the murder of Rankin at Reelfoot Lake. Justice frequently prevails these days, and crime will ultimately be subdued.

Kentucky stands first as a tobacco producing State, 240,000 acres having been cultivated last year. North Carolina comes next, with 200,000 acres. It is gratifying to our farmers to know that Garrard is one of the leading counties in the production of the weed.

Senator Tillman, in reply to the charge, of the President, that he was interested in the Oregon land grab, denied that he had been guilty of wrong and warned Mr. Roosevelt that he lived in a glass house with a glass floor. He asked for a full investigation of the matter and promised to have more to say about the President.

The Pittsburg graft, the secret murders in Indiana, the cremation of a body, in a stove in a church, by a minister, in Michigan, and many other crimes conspire to prove that the North overshadows the South in wickedness; but we will call it even if people in the North will quit posing as angels and cease calling the people of the South demons.

It is gratifying to know that the number of aliens admitted into the United States, during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1908, was 502,479 less than for the year 1907. Restrictions in reference to physical, mental and moral defects are being rigidly enforced. To insure the perpetuity of our institutions, further restrictions should be imposed.

Judge Charles E. Booe, before he donned his prison garb, made to order, paid former Auditor Hager and present Auditor James the full amount he stole from them during the time he was not under bond. The amount was $3,482.87. He also left his wife $6,000 to support her while he is serving his term in the penitentiary. Who will reimburse the State for the remainder of the shortage made by Judge Booe is a question of law that is puzzling.

Direct primary nominations and further strengthening of the laws for the protection of the purity of elections were chief among the recommendations in the annual message of Gov. Hughes presented to the New York Legislature at its opening session. We heartily concur with our namesake. Primaries are close to the people and, if properly conducted, all fraud can be eliminated, while conventions are full of fraud and, being of such short duration, the wires are worked before the masses know what is going on.

The House and the Senate repudiated President Roosevelt. The House by a vote of 212 to 35 laid on the table the sections of the President's Secret Service message, which were held as an attack on the integrity of that body. Many speeches were made by Democrats and Republicans denouncing the President, and one of the strongest was made by Congressman Shurley. The Senate dealt a severe blow to the man in the White House by adopting the Culberson resolution calling for information on the Tennessee coal and iron and steel merger. The President had only fourteen supporters. This is a nice state of affairs. The President seems to be without the support of his own party, and ought to be, since his whole aim is to make personal thrusts at all who do not agree with him. His message covered too much ground. He should investigate the guilty, and not include the innocent, in unwarranted accusations. His conduct is like that of an exaggerated ego or a self conceited hero.

Vegetables As Medicines.
Carrots are excellent for gout. Cranberries correct the liver. Asparagus stimulates the kidneys. Watercress is an excellent blood purifier. Honey is a good substitute for cod liver oil. Parsnips possess the same virtues as sarsaparilla. Celery contains sulphur and helps to ward off rheumatism. Bananas are beneficial to sufferers from chest complaints. Celery is a nerve tonic; onions also are a tonic for the nerve. Beet root is fattening and good for people who want to put on flesh. Tomatoes are good for torpid liver but should be avoided by gouty people. Lettuce has a soothing effect on the nerves and is excellent for sufferers from insomnia. Spinach has great aperient qualities and is far better than medicine for sufferers from constipation. The juice of a lemon is excellent for sore throat, but should not be swallowed, but used as a gargle.—Ex

A Good One.
At Austin Kentucky, Miss Eliza Harrison set partridge eggs under a hen last summer and hatched quite a drove of young ones, and five out of the bunch lived to be entirely grown and have become thoroughly domesticated. She expects to raise from the domesticated quail next season. The quail feed and roost with the chickens but through the day stay a considerable distance from the house, but at the least disturbance they return to the chickens for protection and always return at nightfall to roost. Miss Harrison has been offered a fancy price for the birds by parties who are interested in their culture and who want them to experiment with, but up to the present she has steadily refused to part with them.
This reminds us of John Duncan's gobbler which took the seat of the dead turkey hen, on eggs, hatched them out and watched over them till grown. This is no fake story.

Where is Heaven?
A minister one day preached on Heaven. Next morning he was going down town and he met one of his wealthy members. The brother stopped the preacher and said:
"Pastor, you preached a good sermon about Heaven. You told me all about Heaven, but you never told me where Heaven is."
"Ah!" said the pastor, "I am glad of an opportunity this morning. I have just come from the hill-top yonder. In that cottage there is a member of your church. She is sick in bed with fever; her two little children are sick in the other bed; and she has not got a bit of coal nor a stick of wood, nor flour, nor sugar, nor any bread. If you will go down town and buy five dollars' worth of things—nice provisions—and send them up to her, and then go up there and say, 'My sister, I have brought you these nice provisions in the name of our Lord and Savior,' then ask for a bible and read the twenty-third Psalm, and then get down on your knees and pray—if you don't see heaven before you get all through I'll pay the bill."
The next morning he said:
"Pastor, I saw Heaven, and spent fifteen minutes in Heaven as certain as you are listening."—Farmers' Guide.

Freight Roughly Handled.
Freight is handled in the Philippines by coolies, who, with a bamboo pole and a piece of rope, carry in a most precarious fashion packages that are liable to drop and burst at any moment. Hence the need of good stock for the coolies and re-enforcement with iron strap bands.

The Uncrowned King.
Many a man who goes around boasting that he is his own master doesn't know that he has primary elections, and if he were told that there were such things he would wonder what people did at them.

Ladies Must Not Read.
If there's anything worrier a woman, it's something she ought not to know. But, you bet, she will find it out somehow. If she gets the least kind of a show now, we'll wager ten cents to a farthing this poem she has already read: We knew she'd get it at it somehow. If she had to stand on her head.—Tompson.

Jack London's Latest Novel.
Uncle Remus's—The Home Magazine makes the important announcement that it has secured the serial rights of Jack London's latest novel, "Martin Eden". It will begin in February issue of that popular Magazine, which was founded by Joel Chandler Harris, and is edited by Julian Harris and Don Marquis.

The critics who have read "Martin Eden" state that it is gripping, vivid and picturesque, and is such a story as only Jack London could write. The editors of Uncle Remus's, The Home Magazine believe it to be a story that every man and woman should read, as it contains a big lesson, and in its arrangement of false ideas, is both noble and notable.

Martin Eden, the character who is really the book, is so keenly true that he seems lucid with life. He is intense, big in his ideas and ideals, and without faltering, yet unselfish, he strives ceaselessly and courageously for the genuinely best in life.
"It is just the story that should be printed serially," state the editors of Uncle Remus's—The Home Magazine, for there is much you will want to learn more about and understand better before going on, and the time between each issue of the Magazine gives the reader ample opportunity.

Send 50 cents in stamps to the Sunny South Publishing Company, and they will send you Uncle Remus's—The Home Magazine eight months, beginning with the February issue which contains the first installment of "Martin Eden".

Christ's Earthly Glory

By REV. A. C. DIXON, D. D.,
Pastor of the Chicago Ave. (Moody's) Church, Chicago.

"This beginning of miracles did Jesus in Cana in Galilee, and manifested forth his glory; and John 2:11.

A study of this miracle will give us a glimpse of the true glory of our Lord while upon earth.

1. We See the Glory of His Nature.
Jesus was no ascetic. He did not shut himself between four walls, barring out the world. He was truly in the world, though not of it. While bearing the sorrows of the community he shared equally their joys. He broke up several funerals, but never a feast. He promoted the right kind of festivity. He came to increase our joys and diminish our sorrows, and he knows as no other does how to make our very sorrows channels of joy. We are not surprised, therefore, to find him at a marriage feast mingling with the people and showing forth the glory of his social nature.

2. We See the Glory of His Power.
It was quietly displayed; no outward show. He simply willed and it was done. "The conscious water saw its Lord and blushed." Such is the glory of Christ's power to-day. It displays itself, not in the tempest, the earthquake or the fire, but in the still small voice. The great powers of nature are invisible and inaudible. We wonder at thundering Niagara, and yet the vital forces of the forest draw up much more water than pours over Niagara falls. The quiet working of nature that lifts the clouds and distills the rain, giving life and beauty to meadow, field and flower, displays the true glory of God. The heavens declare his glory by quietly shining, and the firmament showeth his handiwork without making ado over it.

3. We See the Glory of His Sympathy.
Sympathy with the embarrassed and perplexed. Here was a family with more guests than they expected, and their supplies ran short. The Lord comes just in time to relieve their embarrassment. It suggests to us that Christ is ever sympathetic with the little worries and perplexities of life. It is easier to bear a great calamity than these little irritations. Stanley said that he did not fear the lions and tigers of the African forest as much as the "jiggers" and the ants. They killed more men than the savages.

4. We See the Glory of His Method.
The world's method is to give the best wine first and keep the worst for the last. We see that in the experience of the drunkard. He has a time of jollity and what he calls happiness for a few years, but the end is delirium tremens, death. These men of the world had the good wine first, the bad last. How forcibly this was illustrated in the life of Landseer, the great animal painter—a man before whose works of genius people in the art galleries of Europe stand to-day in rapt admiration. Near to close of his life he went around from place to place with swollen nose and bleared eyes, the pity of friends and the scorn of enemies. Byron gave the world's version when he wrote:

"My days are in the yellow leaf;
The flower, the fruit of life is gone;
The worm, the canker and the grief
Are mine alone."
"Beau Brummel" put it in not quite so poetical a form, when, after he had dined with princesses and frittered away his life, he pointed to a dog lying in the sun, and said: "I wish I was that dog." These men of the world had the good wine first and the bitter dregs last. Christ may require of us self-denial, toil, struggle, patience. There may come into our lives sickness and death. We may have truly a hard time of it; but, depend upon it, the good time will come to the Christian, and these severe experiences will make the coming glory all the brighter. In what striking contrast with the sentiments of Byron and Brummel is the experience of Paul: "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith; henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness." The "henceforth" is the Christian's good wine. His life may be a battle to fight, a race to run, a charge to keep; but victory will crown the battle; the prize is at the end of the race, and the "Well done" from the Master's lips will make us glad that we kept the charge committed to us.

Milk from the Soja Bean.
"Vegetable milk" is used in Japan. It is made from the soja bean. The liquid is exactly like cow's milk in appearance, and in taste can hardly be distinguished from it. To make it the beans are first soaked and then boiled in water. Some sugar and phosphate of potassium are added, and it is rolled down till it has the consistency of condensed milk.

Boilers-Grinder in Auto.
An enterprising seissors-grinder in Los Angeles, Cal., has mounted his grinder on an automobile, using the car's power to run the grinder, and now rides from place to place instead of walking.

A Horrible Hold-Up.
"About ten years ago my brother was 'held up' in his work, health and happiness by what was believed to be hopeless Consumption," writes W R Lipscomb, of Washington, N C. "He took all kinds of remedies and treatment from several doctors, but found no help till he used Dr. King's New Discovery and was wholly cured by six bottles. He is a well man to-day." It's quick to relieve and the surest cure for weak or sore lungs, Hemorrhages, Coughs and Colds, Bronchitis, La Grippe, Asthma and all Bronchial affections. 50c and $1.00 Trial bottles free. THOUGHTS ON BUSINESS

BY
WALDO PONDRAY WARREN

THE MASTER'S EYE

THERE is an ancient proverb that "the master's eye does more work than both his hands." The modern version of the master's eye is a card catalogue system that keeps a record of the work of thousands of employees of a great industrial institution. In passing such a card file the other day I made inquiry about it, and the manager said:

"This is our system for keeping track of the mistakes made by employees. Nearly every mistake we discover in any part of the work is traced back to the employee who made it, and it is recorded here against his name."

"Do you point out each person's mistakes to him at the time?"

"Oh, yes. Especially when they amount to much. But we don't speak about every mistake. That would only confuse the employees and make them fearful and probably lead to making more errors."

"What do you find is the cause for most mistakes?"

"Carelessness—almost every time."

"How does your system affect that?"

"Well, he said, 'the mere fact that we keep such a record is a stimulus to employees to be careful. Even if we never looked up a card it would be worth while keeping up the system just for the general influence it has. But we refer to it often. And we know it works because the percentage of mistakes is lowered from year to year.'"

There is more clean money in winter dairying than in summer dairying. With silo to provide succulent feed, and cows freshening in the fall and winter, the highest returns can be counted on from the herd. No flies to bother in the winter time.
W. B. Burton, who has been in the mountains for several days to buy stock, bought 27 mules at London and Barboursville averaging $150 each. He also bought 27 mules in Cincinnati Stock Yards and shipped them to Wilson Live Stock Co., at Wilson, N. C., for which he paid the handsome sum of $4,600.
Stockmen of Southern Kentucky are claiming an advance in prices for mules, and also say that the demand grows stronger as the season opens. Many farmers have quite a number of mules on hand, having refused the prices offered for them.—Farmers Home Journal.
A Dutch colony to grow tobacco has been established near Corpus Christi, Texas. It is believed that section of the State will grow the famous Sumatra leaf, that is grown so successfully by the Hollanders. Owing to the long importation and heavy import duties on this foreign grown leaf, the colony see big profits in its home production.
Two Bargains in Farms.

It is a fact that trees along highways, trees in town and cities and trees in groves and agricultural regions render the atmosphere purer. They by their foliage absorb harmful gases, which would otherwise be breathed by the inhabitants of the densely populated cities, thereby modifying diseases, lessening the dangers of epidemics and in many ways improving the healthfulness of communities.—New York Farmer.

Peach orchards in good bearing in Colorado, are worth $1,500 to $3,000 and even more, per acre. The raw land suitable for peach growing an orchard up to the full bearing age will vary from $100 to $150 an acre. Peach trees begin to bear when three years old, and they produce large crops at the age of six years. For instance, 44 acres of Elberta peaches brought a gross return of $280 an acre the third season after planting. An average net income from the orchards of the best fruit districts run from $300 to $500 an acre at full bearing age.
The Tobacco Tidings tenders the following excellent advice to Burley growers:
"We say to each grower in the Burley belt, grow every pound of good tobacco that your land, labor and means will admit of growing.
"The average annual crop of Burley tobacco is 150,000,000 pounds.
"If the 1909 crop should amount to an increase of 33.33 per cent or a total of 200,000,000 pounds, there is not a scintilla of doubt that every pound of it may be readily marketed at an average price of fifteen cents a pound.
"Before the 1909 crop of Burley will be ready for the market, there won't be enough of Burley on hand to run a large factory one month.
"Burley growers, you can not grow too much Burley next year if it be good Burley.
"If each grower, through enthusiasm, wrong views, or desire for gain, attempts to grow more than he can personally, and by help, attend to properly, the general result will be bad, very bad.
"Remember, that no man, however energetic he may be, can attend to more than five acres of tobacco, and that not one man in a dozen can do that. Four acres would be a big average in the Burley belt.
"Remember, that farm labor is scarce, very scarce.
"Remember, that figures don't lie, and they'll show that ten acres of Burley that will bring fifteen cents will amount to as much money as twenty acres that will bring but ten cents.
"Apply the same common sense to the growing of a 1909 crop that you used in joining the B. T. S., in pooling your 1906 and 1907 crops, and in cutting out the 1908 crop, and you'll not overdo, or underdo, things in respect to it.
"Whether you raise an average crop, or a bumper crop in 1909, you'll not have results entirely satisfactory unless you pool it.
"Organization, pooling and crop regulation, these three, and the last is by no means least. The day will come that without the latter the two former will be useless."
